

Daimler AG, Stuttgart

Internship at Strategy Trucks – Asia & Emerging Markets

Daimler is one of the internationally leading Automobile companies. With a global presence, strong brand portfolio, comprehensive product portfolio and through many innovations and pathbreaking technologies, Daimler has reached the top positions in the market. Over 260,000 employees work together worldwide for the success of the organization.

Description and Tasks:

The department supports the strategic leadership and management of the Daimler Trucks division and is responsible for the implementation of strategic projects for China and other Asian markets. The tasks for the internship would be:

- Market- and competitor analysis for ongoing strategic projects
- Screening the market/competitor environment
- Identification and derivation of potentials as well as needs for action along the entire value chain
- Supporting the definition and implementation of strategic projects in cooperation with regional business units
- Supporting the evaluation of questions regarding partnering and M&A
- Preparation of supporting documents for decision making at top management and board levels

Requirements/Qualifications:

- Fields of study: Business Administration, Economics, Mechanical Engineering or comparable academic streams
- Basic technical understanding and affinity for the commercial vehicle business
- Interest in strategic issues and conceptual work
- Very good language skills in German and/or English; fluency in Chinese (Mandarin)
- Experience with MS-Office software (especially Excel, PowerPoint and internet applications)
- High degree of independence, self-initiative, creativity and communication skills
- High willingness and reliability

Additional Information's:

- Full time employment limited to six months
- Citizens of countries outside of the European economic zone should send a residence/work permit

Apply only online at our homepage with all your documents attached (CV, certificate of matriculation, current grade sheets, relevant certificates, proof of any prior internships and a proof of the standard period of study)

Contact Personal: HR Services, Tel.: +49 711/ 17 - 99544

You can find this position (Reference number 140958) online.
We would be pleased to receive your application at www.career.daimler.de

DAIMLER